My friend came to my house, just for a visit. We chatted for a long time. We played Pokémon on our 3ds for about 5 hours. We basically did the usual things that we feel like doing. Of course, my mom made us food for us to eat. Then suddenly, I bring up the topic on which team is better, FC Barcelona or Real Madrid.

These teams are rivaled for a long time, considering that they both reside in the same place. My friend chose Barcelona and I chose Real Madrid. Why I chose Real Madrid, because they kept me interested since childhood. I mean, I like Barcelona, but I think Real Madrid is the better team.

So my friend says Barcelona is better because they have better teams. An example is Lionel Messi. (This was before Messi left Barcelona). However, I said that Messi is a good player, but he doesn't represent Barcelona. He scores for penalties. Madrid is better because they score good shots, is what I said.
